England to Loan $,000,000 Pounds to Float
the Egyptian Debt—A Dutch Deficit—The Cholera Bulletin in Italy—Foreign News.

Rome, September 19.—The daily bulletin of the ravages of the cholera in Italy gives the following results for the past 24 hours:

The Franco-Chinese War.

Paris, September 19.—Voltaire says that China is indirectly trying to resuscitate the French. M.
Patenaude, the French Minister to China, has asked Prime Minister Ferry what attitude to assume in case China adopts a more direct course, and has been informed that Chinese overtures are to be re-cured with extreme caution, as it is not believed they are in earnest, but only maneuvers for the sake of gaining time.

Mexico.

MEXICO, September 19.—On the evening of the 15th inst. a passenger train on the Mexican National road was fired into by mounted men, four miles South of Celaya. Most of the shots passed through the engine cab. Nobody was injured.

Ireland.

DUBLIN, September 19.—The municipal authorities of Limerick have finally resolved not to pay the extra police tax, or send a deputation to Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, whom they denounce as a tyrant. The extra police were appointed by the Government, on the plea that the local authorities did not furnish sufficient protection against the outrages, and the cost of their maintenance was assessed upon the communities to which they were assigned. This is the tax that Limerick refuses to pay.

Egypt.

LONDON, September 19.—It is asserted that England is going to lend Egypt £20,000,000, to pay the floating debt and Alexandria indemnity. The balance will be used in the construction of irrigation works.

GORDON'S COMPLAINTS.

Cairo, September 19.—Two more telegrams have been received from Gen. Gordon. He complains of the slowness of the authorities in sending relief to the expedition, and states that the number of rebels besetting the Khartoum is increasing.

The Dominion.

OTTAWA, September 19.—Commander Wakeham of the government steamer La Canadienne telegraphs the Fisheries Department that the fisheries on the north side of Anticosti and the north shore of the river St. Lawrence, from Sheldake to Natashuan, are very poor and will have to be given to the fishermen.

A SERIOUS FIRE.

PENETANGOSHINE, ONT., September 19.—Seven stores in the Enterprise and Arcade blocks were burned. Loss, $40,000.

The Netherlands.

THE HAGUE, September 19.—The Dutch Budget shows a deficit of fifteen million florins, which has resulted mainly from the demobilization of silver. 1^o

General's Letter.

ERIE, PA., September 19.—A committee of Erie Republicans met Gen. Logan at Dunkirk this morning, and, upon reaching this city at 9 o'clock, were greeted by Plumed Knights and other Republican clubs, and escorted to the Reed House, where the party breakfasted. Meantime a crowd of 14,000 assembled in front of the hotel. In response to the calls, the Senator was introduced by Congressman Brainerd, and made a brief address. General Logan thanked the people cordially for their hearty reception. Judge Allen of Youngstown, At noon, the visitor, accompanied by the Youngstown, Ohio, Reception Committee, arrived on a special, via the Erie and Pittsburg Railway. A special train was made at Sharon and Newcastle, Pa., but Youngstown and Canton, Ohio, are the objective points.

Examining Jamison's Books.

The order on W. C. Jamison for a settlement in the Ripley estate came up in the Probate Court this afternoon. Jamison's settlement showed that $3, 337.37 remained in his hands unaccounted for, and an examination into books and papers commenced.

TO-DAY'S FIRES.

Perished in the Flames.

TOLEDO, OHIO, September 19.—A fire occurred in the dwelling of Joseph Blyle of East Toledo this morning. His daughter, 8 years old, perished in the flames. His wife and infant child were badly burned.

Went Aground in the Smoke.

BAY CITY, MICH., September 19.—In the dense smoke covering Bay City from the forest fires last night the steam barge C. P. Curtis ran aground on Point Lookout. Assistance was sent.

A Bridge Burned.

DETROIT, September 19.—The Michigan Central Railroad bridge at White Feather burned in the forest fire. Workmen are now rebuilding it.

Spread Rapidly.

DETROIT, September 19.—The town is hot and suffocating. A brief wind spreads the flames rapidly.

A Block of Buildings Burned.

CHICAGO, September 19.—The frame buildings in the business portion of the town burned last night.
Loss, $30,000; insurance, $10,000.

A Wheel Elevator Burned.

DETROIT, MICH., September 19.—The elevator at Eliza,
Clinton County, was burned last night. Loss, $12,000.

Wants $5,000.

Mary Farrell and Benjamin, her husband, filed a suit to-day against the city and Henry McCafe to recover $5,000 damages for injuries sustained by Mrs. Farrell in falling into an excavation at 905
Cass avenue.

THE FAIR.

All the Space Being Rapidly Gathered by Exhibitors.

All the departments of the Fair are just now showing an unwonted activity, and show as many entries being made daily as the clerks can well attend to. Not only is every attention paid the special attractions and offers of the farmers and breeders of the neighboring States, but within a radius of fifty miles of St. Louis there is probably not a city or town in the country which is not represented in one of the many departments open to him. The large additions to the premiums for the breeders of horses has secured for this season's exhibit the most handsome and interesting additions to the accommodations for the specimens of the Holstein, Hereford, and Devon breeds, which have already made the St. Louis Fair famous.

More than the 100,000 persons who will be here to-day will be many added. The department will include all the attractive and interesting exhibits. So far, the Exhibitors and other well-known breeds there is little to add to what the Post-Dispatch has so often said about the agricultural implement exhibit.

except that to-day all the space in the thirty acres was occupied, a thing, which considering the large amount of ground added this year is altogether remarkable.

Proposition to Compromise Claims Against Mr. Jamison's Sureties.

Wm. H. Lee as curator of the estates of the late Blanchard and John McCarter filed a petition in the Probate Court this afternoon for an order to cause to present him to compromise the claims of the estates against the sureties on W. C. Jamison's bond, who was the former curator of the estates.

The petition states that Jamison was ordered on final settlement to pay over $22,982 belonging to the Bismarck McCarter estate, and $20,189 to the estate of the late Blanchard. The sureties on the estates of the late Blanchard and John McCarter have agreed to compromise the claims

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1884.

MR. BLAINE'S tour through the doubtful States and campaign in Ohio indicate that he is not certain of the result.

BEFORE we say anything in favor of Mr. Rosenblatt as a candidate for the Republican nomination in the Ninth District we want to know whether he is in favor of opening the Exposition on Sunday.

AFTER Mr. BLAINE has said that he wished every voter in the United States could read every line of the Mulligan letters, it does not look well in such good Blaine papers as the Globe-Democrat and the New York Tribune to refuse to publish the letters.

SOME enemies of Citizen CUMMINGS are trying to induce him to run again against JOHN O'NEILL in the Eighth District. Citizen CUMMINGS has as much chance against JOHN O'NEILL in the Eighth District as he would have against JOHN L. SULLIVAN in a twenty-four foot ring.

A GREAT many people who had intended to visit the New Orleans Exposition have changed their minds on learning that the fearless effigy of COLUMBUS with the ten-pin ball which was kindly loaned to our Exposition is to be exhibited there. It is a weird thing.

IN the rush to meet Mr. BLAINE at the railway station in New York City last night, Senator MILLER, "Wood Pulp" MILLER, had his pocket picked of a considerable sum of money. The national lamentation over his loss need not be inconsolable, as it will take wood pulp a little while to pick the public's pockets of what was kindly loaned to our Exposition.

OUR enterprising representative at the New Orleans Exposition, Major F. F. HILDER, proposes to open a Missouri Reading-room as a part of the Missouri display at this great Exposition, and has issued a circular calling on Missouri publishers to contribute. The idea is an admirable one, and Missouri will be most creditably represented by such a display.

WE expect the managers of the Exposition to observe a judicial impartiality when taking official action on the Sunday opening question. The statement published in both the morning papers as emanating from the secretary's office, to the effect that four-fifths of the exhibitors in the Machinery Department had protested against Sunday opening, is disingenuous, to say the least. All efforts to see the petition have thus far been fruitless.

MR. WM. CAREY JONES of Berkely, California, a grandson of the great BENTON, is writing a biography of his illustrious grandfather, and solicits correspondence with all persons who may have in their possession letters, speeches, newspapers or documents of any sort, illustrative of the subject. If a half a century from now one of Mr. BLAINE's grandsons shall make a similar request, he will be embarrassed by the abundance of material at his disposal.

AMID the numerous appeals made to the public spirit of St. Louis it will not do to overlook the fact that somebody has invited a delegation of Mexican survivors of the Mexican war to attend a reunion here, and some fifty battle-scarred Caballeros have accepted. If they come they must be taken care of, even though we remember that an incursion from Chihuahua drove the Spanish-American Club into bankruptcy, and were switched off on the Elks' Club before going up to Chicago to buy goods.

CAMPAIGN endorsements are generally vague and meaningless compliments, but in endorsing Mr. GLOVER yesterday the convention of Greenback-Labor reformers told the exact truth; they said they recognized in Mr. GLOVER "a man of ability, of integrity, of independence;" he certainly is that. They added that he was "a representative of the new era of progress upon which St. Louis has entered, a man who will not be controlled by cliques and corporations, and who is in sympathy with the true interests of the whole people." This sizes Mr. GLOVER up pretty fairly.

IN their campaign arrangements BLAINE and BUTLER are closely imitating the example set by those more illustrious showmen, BARNUM and FROEPAUGH. When there was only one world to divide between these two shows, they were very careful not to spoil business by interfering with each other's routes. Thus was the whole country given an opportunity to witness the only and unrivaled monster aggregation of talent while the receipts at the ticket wagon were kept unimpaired. In like manner we find that while the BUTLER circus is exhibiting in Minnesota the BLAINE circus is thrilling the towns in Maine. When BLAINE starts through Massachusetts to run in the fairs of the road to Ohio, BUTLER ravages the State fairs of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. In a certain sense they are rivals, but it is not believed that either wishes to do the other any serious harm.

It is pleasant to read of the French editors saying harsh things against the Yankees, and reprimanding us for the ungrateful return we have made for the affection France has always shown us. The French editors are not to be blamed for this. Even well-informed Americans rest under the impression that when the Bourbon despotism of France took a hand in revolutionary war, it was done, not because France happened to be at war with England, but purely out of love and affection for the Young Republic. Our maudlin school histories are partly to blame for this error, but even those who learned history badly at school may remember that the only incident since the revolution, in the relations between France and this country, was the attempt of a French Emperor to establish a hostile Empire on our border. It is as well not to gush too much over the "traditional friendship" which never existed. We wish the Republic of France well; we owe the nation nothing.

THE WHEAT QUESTION.

WE have 200,000,000 bushels of wheat to spare, but from all accounts Europe will probably want less than half of it. England has produced about 80,000,000 bushels, and there, as elsewhere throughout Europe, the price ranges about forty-five cents per bushel lower than the average of the last three years. Consequently the prices now offered our farmers are below the cost of production, and some fear is expressed that under these discouraging circumstances a very small acreage will be sown this fall.

THE AMERICAN wheat-grower is discouraged, what hope is there for the European farmer, who pays more in rent than it costs to own the land on which most of our wheat is produced? Instead of reducing the American wheat acreage the present situation should largely increase it. With plenty of wheat on hand and the market promising to range for some months to come below the cost of production, the farmer is generally tempted to plant more than usual as the best use he can make of it. He knows that the present remarkably low price is the result of an exceptional year in Europe, which may not be duplicated again for years, and he may reasonably presume that the unremunerative price at which the English farmer is now selling the best crop he has raised since 1874 must still further diminish the steadily decreasing acreage of English wheat culture.

IN the last twenty years the cost of transporting American grain to English markets have changed their minds on learning that the fearless effigy of COLUMBUS with the ten-pin ball which was kindly loaned to our Exposition is to be exhibited there. It is a weird thing.

THE "orderly process of litigation" which Mr. BREWSTER favors in cases against defaulters, embezzlers and other losers of the public treasury, is again beautifully illustrated. One of BREWSTER's subordinates has just admitted that he has been waiting eighteen months in Washington for an answer to an official letter addressed to the head of the Signal Service Bureau in regard to HOWGATE's accounts, and the waiting official has only just now discovered that General HAZEN was ignoring the letter all that time because it reached him directly from the Department of Justice instead of by the red tape route through the War Office. In this connection it leaks out that the Government has for a year had a judgment against HOWGATE for $101,000, while the Treasury books have all the time indicated that the accounts and vouchers of this same HOWGATE were perfectly square. All of which goes to show that a radical change and a general turning over is needed in the departments.

Electricity as an Aid to Lion Tamers.

From the Post Mail Gazette.

The latest application of electricity is an invention made in the interests of lion tamers, which consists of an apparatus of great power, shaven like a stick, about three feet and a half in length. M. Rauspach, the inventor, is a lion tamer himself, who has been "a good deal worried" during a long and successful professional career. He has already experimented with it upon the denizens of the cages in his menagerie, and relates the different effects upon the brutes. Three of his lions receiving the shock immediately showed signs of the greatest terror. The tiger was more quickly subdued, became stupefied, and crouched in a corner of the cage. Bruin was more refractory to electricity, which seemed scarcely to affect him. He would growl and snap his teeth, and was subdued after repeated discharges.

The most astonishing effects, however, were perceived in the boa constrictor. On receiving the discharge, the specimen from Cayenne, nearly twenty feet in length, became at once paralyzed and remained motionless for six hours afterward. When recovered, he showed signs of numbness for three whole days. Finally, the elephant being electrified by a touch of the stick upon the tip of his trunk set up a series of wild cries, and became so strange that the tamer feared the brute would break his heavy iron chain. M. Rauspach is said to intend addressing a paper upon the experiments to the Academy of Sciences.

MUNICIPAL REFORM.

The question of depriving cities of local self-government has again been brought under discussion by recent startling betrayals of municipal trusts. It is said the New York Aldermen lately granted, without any consideration, a street railway franchise for which the city had been offered $1,000,000; that Chicago Aldermen granted for nothing a twenty-year extension of street railway privileges for which responsible men stood ready to pay $1,000,000 cash and a percentage of the receipts; and that Kansas City Aldermen gave away a street railway privilege for which a responsible offer of $100,000 had been made. It is therefore seriously urged by some journals that home rule in cities is a failure, and that they should be governed by State Boards appointed by the Governors or Legislatures to protect city property and interests from the blindness of local voters and the predatory rule of corrupt local bosses. Numerous experiments, however, have failed to show that State boards and State officers and legislators are cleaner or more trustworthy in their dealings with city affairs than the ward politicians. The latter are under some restraint of fear, at least, and know that there is a point beyond which they cannot turn upon their enraged fellow-citizens and safely ask what they are going to do about it. The Kansas City taxpayers, for instance, held an immense mass-meeting, in which references to lamp-post exercises were greeted with such enthusiastic and long-continued cheering that the erring Aldermen fairly ran over each other in their eagerness to attend a special meeting of the Council, called to undo what they had done. Having found him "no deadhead," they, no doubt, "see channels in which he can be useful."

The "Soap" Supplied.

From the Boston Herald.

A. M. West, candidate for Vice-President on the Butler ticket, writing to H. E. Baldwin of Joliet, candidate for Secretary of State, states: "The Democratic and Republican are sectional and co-workers of iniquity, defamers of character, intruders into the sacred precincts of social and domestic life, quarrelers with each other for the offices and their emoluments, corrupting the ballot box by fraud, intimidating and the foul use of money. Each striving to acquire possession of the government that their organized conspirators and their servile followers may be enabled to have a monopoly of all the power and influence of the country." The writer is evidently referring to the "soaps" of the various political parties.

THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribune says: "That Mr. Blaine has lost nothing of the strong hold he has on the hearts of the people was amply demonstrated by the enthusiasm that greeted his appearance yesterday at the stations on the line of his trip from Boston to New York. Wherever he appeared thousands crowded about him to cheer and give expression to their regard. It was evident that a misunderstanding on the part of some of his friends led the announcement that he would be at Newark and elsewhere, where the express train did not stop. The thousands who were gathered at those places were disappointed, though by no fault of Mr. Blaine."

OUR state is making the publication of lottery advertisements a penal offense is violated by some journals with impunity, and the Republican of this city has discovered a perfectly safe way of evading it. An ordinary advertisement is of little value to a lottery swindler, compare with delusive publications as local news and pretending to give instances of sudden wealth obtained from the Louisiana Lottery by poor men in our midst. This old trick for exciting and fleecing the multitude in a city or other locality by arranging an alleged prize payment for some real or fictitious person therein, is as common as maiming and as cheaply, as easily, and more profitably worked. All that is needed is to secure the collusion of the press, and the publication at so much per line of a thrilling local, with names, dates and interviews, telling how some poor fellow on the verge of despair has rescued his family from want and suffering by investing his last half-dollar in a fractional Hosmer Perfectly Satisfied with the Creve Coeur Course.

Games Yesterday—The Browns Beat Allegheny—Most of the American Leaders Beaten—McCaffrey's Latest Challenge—Diamond Chips—Sporting Notes and Sun-dries.

Yesterday afternoon Hosmer, being of a business turn of mind and not caring for the blandishments of the city, took the first train he could catch for Creve Coeur Lake. He was accompanied by the ever-courteous and attentive backer of Gaudier, Mr. Jas. A. St. John, and at Chippewa Jake joined the party. Arrived at the lake, Hosmer at once expressed his great satisfaction at the appearance of the course, and also in regard to the late surroundings. The still water deceived him, however, and he miscalculated his distance. "Where does the course go to?" he asked Mr. St. John. "Up around the bend?" You see, he was a horseman, and he will not be enough of it when you paddle over it." And he did, as he afterward acknowledged.

Hosmer took quarters near the lake, at a farm house, and will, as is his custom, train himself. Gaudier loaned him one of his boats to exercise in and take his breath, and the two of them also took a boat to get off his legs of travel. He is feeling in great trim, and as Mr. St. John says, he is such shape to make it a terrific hot contest.

Some hours were passed during the day. While Mr. St. John was ferrying Hosmer across the lake, he held his boat across his legs. About half an hour later he was in a huge storm and leaped out of the water making a splash for George's head. He was nearly upset and exclaimed: "Beautiful boat, but you are a bad swimmer." He collected himself with a bit of cat and the commotion was tremendous for the time being. In fact the scaly inhabitants of the lake seemed to turn out to receive the visitors. The previous day, however, the coming events in the shape of an orca as they may see fit.

During the afternoon Hosmer spoke very freely and of course, too. He was not the only man of any living man to beat Edward Hanlan, but said that Teemer would make it warmer for him than any other man in the world if he could. If they ever get together, however, he says if Beach and Hanlan row again, the latter will show more decisiveness which is the better man. Hosmer has no objection to this, and it will be remembered expressed himself to that effect after their meeting on the Charles River, July 4th.

At the same time he said that he can't see the man of the day, and added that most of his recent reverses to bad health and lack of condition. He is now feeling like a locomotive.

The race on the 8th will take place between the hours of 4 and 6 in the afternoon.

St. Louis vs. Allegheny.

The Pittsburghers will play their last game here-to-morrow, and in their improved form certainly give the Browns plenty of work. The game will take place at Sportsman's Park at 3:30 p.m., and the score will be as follows:

St. Louis. Position. Allegheny.
Deasley.....Catcher.....Smith.....
Foutz.....Pitcher.....Nelson.....
Gandy.....Batter.....Cleamer.....
Nicol.....2d base.....Whitney.....
Latham.....3d base.....Foster.....
Gleason.....Short-stop.....Eden.....
O'Donnell.....Off. Field.....
Lewis.....Center field.....Eden.....
Carrathers.....Right field.....Swartwood.....

St. Louis vs. Allegheny.

An increase in the size of the attendance was noticeable at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon, and a very large proportion of the same were ladies. The Alleghenians showed up in much better form than they have ever done here, and for the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant made the appearance of a sober, steady and hard-working team—this owing to the disciplining and training they have been under since Horace Phillips has taken charge of them. McGinniss was in the box for St. Louis, and was not battered freely, while Neale was slashed severely in the beginning of the game, serious errors by Cleamer and others giving St. Louis a 10-2 victory. The game was a good one, a clean score while at the bat, and was credited with three hits to three when he was given his base by the ball hitting him. O'Neil and Cleamer, and Kremhener and Nicod had two hits each to their credit. The final score was 6 to 4 in favor of St. Louis.

Games Yesterday.

The Metros were recently demoralized and went to pieces badly in Toledo, yesterday, where they were beaten by a score of 15 to 8. In the game with the "Blades" last night, the team for ten runs, six earned, and their score kept on growing from that out, they making seventeen hits while the Metros had eight errors charged against them. At Indianapolis the Virginians gave the Hoosiers a terrible threshing; score 15 to 1. At Cincinnati the Cincinnati beat the Athletics by a score of 9 to 6, at Cleveland the Browns beat the Indians by a score of 5 to 2; at Louisville the Brooklynats beat Louisville by a score of 2 to 1.

In the Union series the games played were: Pittsburgh, 2; Baltimore, 0; at Baltimore; National, 4; St. Louis 2, at Washington; Cincinnati 13; Boston, 7, at Boston.

The League results were: Buffalo, 6; Philadelphia, 2; Buffalo; New York, 9; Cleveland, 6; at Philadelphia; Boston, 5; Chicago, 8; at Boston; Providence, 9; Detroit, 6; at Detroit.

With McCaffrey's Compliments.

Up to the present time John L. Sullivan has ignored entirely everything which has emanated from Dominick McCaffrey. The last epistle, published this week, is too full of "blood" to allow of an evasion. The document is as follows:

NEW YORK, September 16, 1884.

Editor Clipper:—A few lines from time to time, I have, mainly from footings, have been compelled to bar John L. Sullivan. Recent events have convinced me, however, that he does not appreciate my meaning, so I will say that I am a match for him. I hereby challenge Mr. Sullivan to a bout according to the regular rules of the London P. R., for $1,000 to $100 a fall, in four or six months from now. The bout will be at the place of the fight to take place in Colorado or within 200 miles of Kansas City, where there is no likelihood of magic being worked. I will deposit $100 cash in your hands, and will meet Mr. Sullivan at your office at such time as he may appoint for the purpose of making a match. As it is the only man who can beat him, I will be compelled, with credit to himself, to decline to meet me. If he does, I will consider myself justified in claiming the title of champion from a man who fears to contend with me for it. Respectfully, DOMINICK McCAFFREY.

Patay Cardiff Here.

With his factotum, Parson Davies, Cardiff arrived here this morning and took up his abode at the St. James, where he will remain during his stay in St. Louis. Cardiff is a well-dressed young fellow with good features, and with his weight and size as well as his strength cannot well be gauged from his appearance in every day clothes. He is intelligent and has been bedeviled by a quiet smile, and is a good business man in his expression, and yet determined and full of business. He is satisfied with his weight and thinks it the proper heft for a man and while recognizing King's ability is not afraid of his own coming out second best.

John Davies thinks he has under his wing one of the most promising fighters in the land, if not "the coming man."

The Provincials Club will be the next visitors and will remain in the city in St. Louis so far as American Association games are concerned.

As the Mound base-ball club have no game for Sunday, they would be pleased to hear from some amateur club. Address all challenges to C. Taylor, 712½ N. Nineteenth.

That Pittsburgh gentleman who wanted to gain a little experience in running a base-ball club and so took the Pittsburghians away from Chicago, has probably been beaten out of his position thoroughly.

McLean has insisted that a man who found fault with his unimpressive in a New York game should be put off the grounds, as it was done. Such a decision is not unusual, clean out the Provin-

A NEW LINE EAST.

The Wabash Route Makes Its Through-Car Service the Most Complete in the World.

On and after Sunday, September 23, the Great Wabash Route will add another through car to the East to its already unsurpassed equipment. This car will leave St. Louis daily at 6:45 p. m., and run via the Wabash Air Line to Detroit, the Grand Trunk to Niagara Falls, the new West Shore Route to Rotterdam, J. C.; the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel and West to North Adams, and the Fitchburg to Boston, arriving the second evening without change or transfer.

New York passengers taking this train make direct connection in the depot at Niagara Falls with the new Through Pullman sleeping cars and West Shore, giving them the benefit of a new, short, quick and pleasant route to the great metropolis.

Should it be remembered that this new and popular arrangement over the Wabash does not interfere with the present unrivaled service to New York and Boston, but is an addition to it, and gives the patrons of the Great Wabash Route the benefit of two daily trains between St. Louis and Boston, two different routes between St. Louis and New York, undoubtedly the best through-car service in the world.

Refused the Injunction.

PITTSBURG, Pa., September 19.—This morning Judge Ewing refused to grant a preliminary injunction in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company against the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company and also to grant an order to issue at least $441,000 of preferred stock to pay for improvements made on the road. The court held that the preliminary injunction was not necessary, and that it would be better to wait by waiting until the final hearing of the case. Plaintiff company have been withholding the annual rents, because the stock has not been issued, and the defendants are about to take steps to annul the contract for reason of the default.
